

Help is Available

Were you or someone you know displaced by the Camp House, Jenkins, or Munger-Shaw fires? Was your primary residence destroyed or has sustained major damage? Did you lose medication or durable medical equipment? Do you simply need a shoulder to lean on?

Call the American Red Cross

Trained Red Cross volunteers are ready to help support your recovery efforts.

Available Services for Primary Residences:

Recovery Financial Assistance

Those whose primary residence was destroyed or sustained major damage may qualify for recovery financial assistance whether the homeowner or renting the home. Financial assistance empowers families to take control of their recovery and decide their next steps by helping to replace clothing, defray temporary housing expenses or offset any other critical needs. Connection with United Way supplemental assistance will also be provided.

Additional Services for Anyone Impacted:

Recovery Information

Access crucial information and get connected to community partner organizations that can provide additional resources.

Disaster Health Services

Speak with trained Red Cross health services professionals about any health-related concerns. Replace medication or durable medical equipment that may have been lost in the fire.

Emotional Support

Disasters are traumatic incidents. You or your loved ones can talk to Trained Red Cross Disaster Mental Health volunteers about your experiences.

Spiritual Guidance

Connect with our Spiritual Care Team for spiritual support, care, and guidance.
